Where is the Church?

“If the house is dark when nightfall comes, there is no sense in blaming the house; that is what happens when the sun goes down.” The question to ask is, “Where is the light?” Similarly, if the meat goes bad and becomes inedible, there is no sense in blaming the meat; this is what happens when bacteria are left alone to breed. The question to ask is, “Where is the salt?” Similarly, if a society deteriorates, and its standards decline until it becomes like a dark night or a stinking fish, there is no sense in blaming society; that is what happens when fallen men and women are left to themselves, and human selfishness goes unchecked. The question to ask here is, “Where is the Church? Why are the salt and light of Jesus Christ not permeating and changing our society?” (Anglican Theologian Rev. John Stott (1921-2011) in his book Issues Facing Christians Today)

We need to act as salt and light by sharing in Christ’s ministry as priest, prophet, and king. As priest, Christ offered a sacrifice of love to the Father. What sacrifices of love do we offer to the Father? We can offer our married, single, or family life, our work, our outreach to others, even our relaxation, along with our prayers and sufferings, to God. We can offer them at any time, but the best time is at Mass when we offer ourselves with Christ to the Father. As Prophet, Christ proclaimed the Good News of salvation. He also calls us to evangelise others (both fellow-Catholics and non-Catholics), by word and example, at home, at school, and at work. We bear witness most effectively when others see the difference Christ has made in our lives, shining through us as the Light which can be seen, the Light which warns, and the Light which guides.

Finally, as King, Christ became servant to all through His Self-giving. He also calls us to give of ourselves so the workplace, the community, the school, the parish and the home may become more humane. He calls us to serve in our parishes so they can grow and become more alive. He calls us to integrate our Christian Faith with the loving presence of our daily lives, so that our service may be His service to others. Doing all this, when we offer ourselves to God, when we proclaim the Good News in word and example, and when we serve others, we make a difference as Christians. This is how God calls us to worship, to witness, and to give of ourselves.
